

Emmanuella Nzeribe

2023 Chairperson for Public Relations for FIP ECPG

I am Emmanuella Nzeribe, a community pharmacist and research director at GA Patient Safety Initiative. I graduated from Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and technology, Ghana with a Doctor of pharmacy in 2020. I did my houseman ship / residency at the Tamale Teaching hospital, in Northern Ghana before moving back to Nigeria, my home country, to contribute to the advancing of Pharmacy practice in my local community. I have experiences working as a Medical writer and Editorial assistant with various organisations including the FIP Pharmacy Education Journal.

I have always been excited about pharmaceutical research and global health. Therefore, to explore these interests, I became active in IPSF when the African Pharmaceutical Symposium was to be organised in Ghana. I contributed to the success of the symposium by joining the reception committee. I went further to become the Contact person for my local student association and Regional Relations officer for the AfRO region of IPSF. During my time in IPSF, I represented my association in 3 symposia and the 70th World congress in Rwanda and also represented the federation at various external events.

I joined FIP in 2020 upon graduation where I served as a member of the Publications team, Publications coordinator and now the Chairperson for Public Relations for FIP ECPG for the 2023 mandate which I am truly excited about. I strongly believe that one of the ways young pharmacists can contribute in advancing pharmacy education and practice is through collaborations. This mandate's primary objective is to expand relationships between the FIP ECPG and other ECPOs globally. I plan to work to continue the amazing work of the previous steering committee by promoting ECPO projects in the bimonthly newsletters as a means of motivating other ECPOs and further assist the development of new ECPOs. More importantly, I intend to work with the team to promote engagement in ECPG newsletters and ECPG social media pages.
